

3D MOTION DESIGNER (m/w/d)

We're on the lookout for a creative mind to join our Berlin team – someone who blends imagination, design excellence, and technical skills into powerful visual experiences.

What you should bring

- A degree in Architecture, Visual Communication, (Motion) Design, or a comparable qualification
- Proficiency in Adobe Creative Suite and Cinema 4D, with proven experience in Motion Graphics using After Effects
- A strong sense of space, light, color, and movement, paired with high design precision
- Solid German and English skills, both written and spoken
- Plus: Knowledge of Unreal Engine and experience with AI-based image and video generation tools

Your responsibilities

- Shape visual concepts and creative strategies for media and lighting projects in architectural contexts
- Design and visualize projects in 2D & 3D – from first sketch to photorealistic renderings
- Bring visions to life through video animation, motion graphics, and content for media facades, LED installations, and light art pieces
- Develop storyboards, mood boards, and visual storytelling concepts that inspire
- Collaborate closely with our design and tech partners to push boundaries together

What we offer

- Exciting projects where architecture, art, and technology meet
- Partnerships with leading architects and project developers
- An interdisciplinary, international team in a central Berlin location
- Creative freedom with the opportunity to bring visionary ideas into real spaces
- An open, collaborative, and entrepreneurial team spirit
- The latest tools, innovative technologies & continuous learning opportunities
- Flexible working models with office and remote days
- In-house workshops, team events – and plenty of inspiration along the way
